Representatives from the Scottish, Welsh and Northern Ireland blood services are also invited. The forum meets four times a year to determine strategy on the key issues of importance to members within NHSBT and Blood Services throughout the UK. NHSBT Unison representatives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Staff Partnership Committee Reps <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Bev Easton</li> <li>○ Teri Williamson</li> <li>○ Chris Kearney</li> <li>○ Mandy Evans</li> </ul> </li> <li>● Unison National Lead Officer – Jo Spear j.spear2@unison.co.uk</li> </ul> Unison Helpline number: 0845 3550845 To find out more and join UNISON : https://join.unison.org.uk/ Unison Website

Unite the Union

Unite has over one million members in manufacturing, construction, finance, pharmaceuticals, motor industry and most importantly approximately 100,000 members in the NHS.

NHSBT members are mainly lab workers, but are also within Quality Assurance, Transport, Blood Supply and Administration.

We have a good relationship with the management of NHSBT but will enter into debate when required, defend members' contractual rights, and seek to improve pay, terms and conditions wherever possible. We represent members in capability, sickness, grievance and disciplinary hearings and give a voice to ordinary members of staff.

We meet regularly with management in a number of local, directorate and national forums, and have a network of local representatives in each blood centre, and directorate, who can assist and advise members should they need help. In more difficult cases we can call on expert full-time officers for advice and support.
